

77. Economic and Social Impact of Sahyadri Sugar Factory on Deployment of Karad Tahsil

N. S. Desai

Reserch Student, Shivaji University, Kolhapur.

Dr. H. Y. Karande

Head and Associate Professor, Mahila mahavidyalay, Karad.

Abstract

In India sugar production started between the fourth and fifth century A.D. In Maharashtra Karad tahsil is famous for the sugarcane cultivation and co-operative sugar industry. This co-operative sugar factory is a mile stone in development of sugar industry . In this research peper is attempt has to study an economic development by the sugar factory of study area and analyze the social impact of study area. This study is based on primary and secondary data. Such types of studies are useful for rural development.

Keywords: Sugarcane, Agriculture, Panand, cultivation.

1. Introduction

Gangetic Plains are the origin of sugarcane in India. Then it spread to tropical India and confluence of river basin. Sugarcane cultivation in Maharashtra especially is western Maharashtra is not recent Sugarcane was mainly used for the Preparation of jigger. In Maharashtra Satara District Karad Tahsil is major Part of Sugarcane cultivation as well as sugar industry. In Karad there are four major sugar factories are there out of these sugar factory Sahyadri Sugar factory and Yashwantnagar sugar factory played most important role of development of karad tahsil. This Factory was register on (26-08-1969) 26th August 1969. The foundation stone was laid on Shahapur mal on 8th April 1970 by the pride of Karad and country late Yashwantraoji chavan finance minister of India.

2. Objective

The Specific Objectives of this study are as follow as

- 1) To study the economic development of study area.
- 2) To analyze the effect of social activating performed by sahyadri sugar factory.